

User Story Testing	Fail	Pass
As a site user I can click on a post so that the full post can be read - success		success
As an admin I can create, edit and delete blog and event content so that my audience can read blog posts and event posts		success
As a user I can click on the events link so I can view a list of upcoming events		success
As a user I can click on the events link so I can view the event full details		success
As a site user I can register an account so that I can comment on the blog posts		success
As a site user I can create a comment so that join in the conversation on the blog posts		success
As a site user I can modify or delete my comment so that I can correct any errors and play a part in the conversation		success
As an admin I can check, approve and delete users comments so that I can filter out objectionable comments		success
As a site user or admin I can view comments so that I can see the full conversation		success
As a site user or admin I can add, edit or delete a comment so that I can interact with the blog page via the comments section		success
As a user I should be able to fill in a form so that I can collaborate with the blog owner.		success
As a user I should see a notification so that I know I submitted, or edited my comment		success
As a user I should see a warning sign to ensure I want to delete a post		success
As a user I could click on a featured event highlighted on the blog page		success